mr crosby s article on shakespeare s attitude toward the working classes suggested to me the idea of also expressing my own long established opinion about the works of shakespeare in direct opposition as it is to that established in all the whole european world calling to mind all the struggle of doubt and self deceit efforts to attune myself to shakespeare which i went through owing to my complete disagreement with this universal adulation and presuming that many have experienced and are experiencing the same i think that it may not be unprofitable to express definitely and frankly this view of mine opposed to that of the majority and the more so as the conclusions to which i came when examining the causes of my disagreement with the universally established opinion are it seems to me not without interest and significance my disagreement with the established opinion about shakespeare is not the result of an accidental frame of mind nor of a light minded attitude toward the matter but is the outcome of many years repeated and insistent endeavors to harmonize my own views of shakespeare with those established amongst all civilized men of the christian world i remember the astonishment i felt when i first read shakespeare i expected to receive a powerful esthetic pleasure but having read one after the other works regarded as his best king lear romeo and juliet hamlet and macbeth not only did i feel no delight but i felt an irresistible repulsion and tedium and doubted as to whether i was senseless in feeling works regarded as the summit of perfection by the whole of the civilized world to be trivial and positively bad or whether the significance which this civilized world attributes to the works of shakespeare was itself senseless my consternation was increased by the fact that i always keenly felt the beauties of poetry in every form then why should artistic works recognized by the whole world as those of a genius the works of shakespeare not only fail to please me but be disagreeable to me for a long time i could not believe in myself and during fifty years in order to test myself i several times recommenced reading shakespeare in every possible form in russian in english in german and in schlegel s translation as i was advised several times i read the dramas and the comedies and historical plays and i invariably underwent the same feelings repulsion weariness and bewilderment

sustaining all critical effort is the whole matter of suasion especially given that no writing is without intent if writing is not an end in itself reading cannot be reading is a quest both for pleasure and for persuasive material each text upon completion remains in the balance until it is tipped into oblivion or relevance by the studied verdict of readership criticism and that verdict is particular to each reader and each context texts therefore undergo a new birth each time they are re read tutuola s the palm wine drinkard 1952 owes its life in african letters to the critical act in other words the aesthetic verdict of a singular reader dylan thomas tutuola s manuscript had suffered cryptic rejection in the hands of english publishers until faber and faber sent it to dylan thomas then one of its external readers the result was the birth of one of african literature s most signifying texts we open our statement with this hermeneutic reflection the better to alert the intending student of criticism to the nature of his assignment and the teacher of criticism to the formative responsibility he bears
